

ENAIKOON SIM-card

Convenient cost-effective solution for all tracking devices

The ENAIKOON SIM-card is designed to work perfectly with ENAIKOON tracking devices. These SIM cards are ideally suited for telematics applications because they offer the following options:

- Roaming in different networks possible trackables like construction equipment, that are stationary for a long time, are able to use different networks simultaneously, which means that they never lose a signal. Even if there is a dead zone in one network, it is easily covered by another network provider. This means that the current location of the trackable is always updated and sent to the server.
- Only one rate for use in many different countries including the USA, Canada, South Africa, Australia, Ireland, the UK, and most European countries
- ENAIKOON guarantees the maximum monthly cost
no risk of unusual high monthly fee

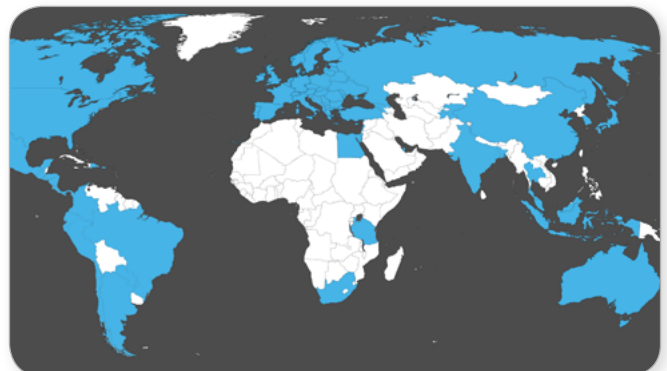

A great value

All of the countries listed in the table on the backside of this sheet are available for use with a typical telematics solution for only € 3.90 per month.*

For data intensive applications, like CAN bus data analysis, we would be happy to give an individualised quote.
